

To Lodi City Council

workshop - trees

Suzanne Lusk
10-8-90 per. 6

Value of Trees

The cutting down of trees is a tragic event. People don't realize the damage that they are doing. Most people say a few trees won't make a difference. They then use that as an excuse every-time they cut down trees. Bigger and older trees produce more oxygen in our environment. These are the ones that are being cut down. This can limit our supply of oxygen if too many are cut down. Also the creatures that inhabit the trees lose their homes. The population of certain creatures is too high for a certain environment. This could cause lack of food for some creatures, and they would die. This amounts to more than damage to humans.

Carmen Gonzalez
English p. 6
Oct 7, 90
Oct 8, 90

Writing "Trees"

In our society people are slowly ~~trying~~ starting to realize that we are destroying our environment. Trees are very important to our everyday living. They supply us with all the paper we use, wood for building our homes. Trees also supply us with oxygen. ~~We~~ We are killing trees faster than we can regrow them. We don't realize how important they are to us until we lose them. I think that we need to realize how important they are to us. We would be lost without them. People need to get involved in saving our resources.

Writing
"Trees"

Chief Newman

Per. 6

10-8-90

10-8-90

Trees are important to me in many ways. When I was younger, they were important to me, because I used to make a swing on my tree in the backyard. Me and my friends used to climb the trees, and play on them. Now trees are important for me because I always write my work on paper that is made from trees. I need trees if I want to sit in the shade under one. Now that I have learned more about trees, I know I need them for oxygen, and they do make the community look better. One thing I do regret about trees is, that when I was younger my kite always used to get stuck in one.

Laura Henry
Period 6
Due = 10-8-90
Done = 10-5-90

Grammar
P on trees

Trees are very important. Trees provide shade when it is hot. They also produce paper to write on. But the most important thing that trees provide is Oxygen. If we didn't have trees we wouldn't have any Oxygen. Without Oxygen we would die. As you can see trees are very important.

Diana Wong

P. 6

Oct. 8, 1990

Oct. 7, 1990

Paragraph on Trees

Trees are closely connected to the very fiber of our beings. Trees are part of nature's way of recycling. We exhale carbon dioxide and the trees thrive on it. ~~As~~ Trees "exhale" oxygen and humans depend on it. ^{As} ^{if} ^{the} ^{loggers} keep cutting down trees at the rate they do, I fear for the future generations of the world. I know that they replant after cutting down but it takes several years for them to grow back. Fires are also causing a problem. Careless people throw cigarettes on the floor or don't put out campfires completely. If we all get together and promise to be more careful and considerate, I believe we will all breathe much easier.

Euna Gabriel
Period 5
English
Oct 6, 1990
Oct 5, 1990

= Value of Trees in Our Society =

Trees are very important to our society. Trees provide homes for birds. And trees that are cut down are used for firewood, building houses, and provide timber for bridges. If we didn't have trees we wouldn't have some of the things we have today. We wouldn't have shade to sit under on hot sunny days. Little certain animals wouldn't have places to live. We should value and take notice ^{of} what we have around us.

Shawn Brennan

P. 6

10-8-90

Value of trees 10-5-90

Trees are very valuable to our Earth. They are needed for the survival of people on this planet. Trees give up Oxygen and take in Carbon dioxide which is poison to humans. In fact, we owe our lives to trees. That's how valuable they are.

They are also green and pretty, they add color to our environment.

Trees also provide us shade from the sun when it is ~~is~~ hot.

Santiago Delanda
10/8/90
Spanish
Kenod ©

Paragraphs about trees

Why trees are important to people?

Trees are one of the most important things in the world because trees give us air. Without air the human race would not survive.

Trees are not only for air. They are for making papers, shadow, and climbing on.

Even though trees are needed this greatly, people abuse trees all the time, such as chopping down whole forests at a time.

The trees also give us wooden tools, toys, and our houses that we live in, also, are made of it. For all these things trees are the trees give us makes them important.

Jeff Raso

Period 6

10/8/90

10/7/90

Writing
"Trees"

importance of trees in our society is very great. Without trees in our society, we would not be able to breath as freely as we do today. Trees produce oxygen which we need, to be able to live.

Trees also shade us from the violent rays of the sun. Whenever we get hot, we can simply stand behind a tree.

Humans also use trees to produce paper products. Trees also make people's yards look nice by adding color and beauty to them. These are just a

Self, Allison
Per. 6
Oct. 8, 1990
Oct. 7, 1990

Value of Trees

The value of trees to our society is very important to us. They provide us with oxygen to breathe; and many more life dependant things. Trees also show how beautiful the world is with all of these beautiful, green trees in our backyards, frontyards, and everywhere we look.

One thing I value the trees for is that the world would be so ugly with out trees. We also would not be alive.

Another thing for the value of trees is that it provides us ~~for~~ with paper products. It gives us paper for us to teach generations.

few of the reasons why trees are important in our society.

Anna Vongphouthone

pl.
10-8-90

H/w The Value of Trees 10-6-90

Everyone should realize the importance of trees. Without them, our supply of oxygen would decrease greatly. We wouldn't have a shady place to sit and read a book or just to relax. Not only that but when we go on picnics there won't be a ~~cool~~ cool place to sit either. It would be hot and the picnic wouldn't be as much fun. Trees also help keep our air clean and healthy. It takes in most of the gases that are harmful to us. If someone in the house smokes, get some plants. It's not a tree, but it's a smaller form of a tree. Having the plants in the house will help prevent the ceiling from turning brown. So you see trees are very valuable.

Mike Hines

Period 6

October 8, 1990

October 7, 1990

Trees play an important role in our society. People often do not realize just how important trees are. For one thing, trees provide life-giving oxygen for us to breathe. The paper which we write on comes from trees. On a hot afternoon, a tree makes shade for us. The wood products which we use comes from trees. So you see, trees are important to our society.

Jason
Kirschenmann

p. 6

10-5-90

due 10-8-90

Trees

Trees play a big role in our society. Trees are what lots of the houses are built out of. Trees are also important to our world. The trees help to prevent the greenhouse effect. Trees are also used to make paper. Without trees you would never be able to sit down and read a newspaper. Trees also help protect and home the animals, and wildlife of our society. We need the trees for shade, to cool us off. If we didn't have trees then no one could sit down under a tree with a glass of lemonaid. We need trees to stay alive. Without trees our planet will end up cracked and desolate, just like the cartoons we wrote about. This is why trees are important.

Lolly Mangini

Per 6

10-5-90

10-5-90

Writing

"The Meaning of Trees"
"to Our Society"

To our society trees mean protection, nobility, and security. Trees protect homes, roads, and buildings from the wind. The wind sways the tree tops and the trees bend and bend during the force of nature to take them down. It's not nature that usually destroys the grandness of the trees but people. People act like Spanish moss strangling the life out of the very plants that give us our breath. People should stop to think about that trees are harder to replace than to cut down. It always pains me to see a tree lost to the hand of man. I feel with each tree gone one of my childhood memories of playing in the never-ending branches of a tree is torn.